COMIC CON CHRISTIANITY

Jen Schlameuss-Perry

From the earliest days of human culture, superheroes have inspired us to look deeper and raise questions about how we live in community. Every generation had its heroes from Beowulf to Siegfried to King Arthur, and our more recent heroes given by Tolkien, Lewis, Stan Lee, and Gene Roddenberry. Comic Con Christianity is a gateway to faith for young, unchurched nerds who do not currently have the vocabulary of faith which, incidentally, is the same vocabulary as most superhero, sci-fi, and fantasy media. For the seeker—young adults and nerds of all ages—this book is an introduction to Catholic Christian thought using media that already speaks to them. For the faithful, considering these stories from a Christian perspective offers a challenge to the way we live our faith.

Comic Con Christianity, a natural expression of Catholic faith, invites the reader to look at Catholic Christian spirituality within the context of some of the most compelling stories of our culture. The stories in this book, which resonate with many, is a bridge between this ever-growing demographic and our Catholic faith.

Jen Schlameuss-Perry is pastoral associate at the Co-Cathedral of St. Robert Bellarmine in Freehold, NJ.

“Taking modern tales of heroism and virtue, comic figures and legendary characters, Jen Schlameuss-Perry offers new metaphors and parables to ‘dress up’ Christian faith for a world that loves to dress up for Comic Con. This is an entertaining, insightful, and enjoyable book!”

—Daniel P. Horan, OFM, Catholic Theological Union, and author of God Is Not Fair and Other Reasons for Gratitude

“Perry helps us explore the mythic elements that give rise to great storytelling in modern fantasy literature and film and helps us appreciate the ways that these meaning-saturated tales help us to understand fundamentals of Christ-centered faith. Share this book with the fiction lovers around you!”

—Tim and Sue Muldoon, authors of Reclaiming Family Time

“It is the gift of Jen Schlaemuss-Perry, as every age must do, to dress the gospel in contemporary clothes. I am certain that her audience will resonate at every stage with these amazing ‘Christ-figures.’”

—Rev. William J. Bausch, author of Storytelling: Faith and Imagination
